Margreet Schouren (co-founder and owner) developed a strong passion for horses at a very young age. She started riding at the age of six, followed by years of training and hard work. She now is a fully licensed trainer and competed on Prix St. Georges level.

Margreet runs her own dressage stables in the south of Holland and has been teaching for many years. Margreet strongly believes in finding the strength in each rider and their horse and making them work together like a team. Keywords in her training are mutual trust, understanding, rhythm and fun instead of force.

The essence of her work is finding the perfect match and connection between horse and rider.

Equi-Consultancy will not only find you the right horse or training, we also qualify and advise in nutrition & supplements, mental coaching, competition planning and alternative therapies to increase the health of your horse.
